Introduction

An iframe is an html document embedded inside another html document on a website. The iframe html element is often used to insert content from another source, in this case your Affiliate Rezdy booking form, within your site. This not only allows your visitors to remain on your site during the entire booking process, but also allows for a seamless site integration. There are no headers and borders so it looks like it is a part of your existing website.

Please note that you would need at least a beginners level of html and web design to complete the integration of our iframes on your website yourself, but we strongly recommend you use a web designer, or at least someone with a beginner level and higher knowledge. If you have a webmaster, please invite him/her to do this.

IMPORTANT: Please ensure to copy and paste the entire code displayed for each iframe widget, then change this code by replacing "agentCode=bizarrebkk tours" by "agentCode=yourfull name" or - if you are a blogger - by "agentCode=yourblog name" (use for your full name or blog name exactly the same name as filled in behind "Company Name" in your Rezdy account!). Changing this code in a different way or using your own can prevent you from earning commission or your visitors from trying to book through certain devices and/or certain internet browsers. To avoid issues, simply use the code provided and change it according to the instructions above.

Please note that for WordPress there is also the Rezdy.com WordPress plugin. Once installed, you will only need to copy and paste your Affiliate Tracking Link URL (i.e. <https://bizarrebkk tours.rezdy.com/?agentCode=yourfull name> or - if you are a blogger - <https://bizarrebkk tours.rezdy.com/?agentCode=yourblog name>) into your WordPress plugin settings.

HOW TO INTEGRATE
